Rockefella

Rockefella makes clothes for the small kids of today, with a sense of yesterday. Rockefeller is a Swedish denim brand for kids. The clothes have a grown up look but with the comfort and details to fit the kids. The right details are important for Rockefeller and their clothes give your child a cool and authentic look. Rockefeller find their inspiration in the old style American Rockabilly culture with its rebellious lifestyle. The youth culture started in the fifties and that is also where the denim culture of today was born. The Rockefeller clothes fit a small baby just as well as an active toddler who wants to wear clothes with attitude and original feeling. What also is great about Rockefeller is that the largest part of their collection is produced in Europe and their suppliers have Oeko-tex standard 100.
